TradeMark sets new safety record

TAMPA, Florida (October 4, 2012) – TradeMark Nitrogen, a US manufacturer of liquid nitrogen products, today broke a previous safety record of no loss time injuries for a period of 6.67 years. That is 2,438 days and counting!

Greg Patterson, Safety Manager at TradeMark Nitrogen, remarked, “This is a major accomplishment, especially considering the fact that the facility is in operation 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. When we break this down into hours, this is over 58,512 hours of maintaining a focus on safety.”

TradeMark Nitrogen has been a member of the Tampa Area Safety Council for many years.

“We take safety very seriously here,” said Mike Barry, TradeMark General Manager. “To achieve such a milestone shows a commitment not just from the top but from every person on the Team. I am very proud of this achievement!”
