Mike Barry Named General Manager of TradeMark Nitrogen Corporation

TAMPA, Florida (May 14, 2012) – TradeMark Nitrogen Corporation, a US manufacturer of liquid nitrogen products, has named Mike Barry to the company’s management team. Today, Barry joins the organization as General Manager – responsible for spearheading several key initiatives including new product development, market expansion and production upgrades.

The addition of Barry marks a key strategic move as TradeMark Nitrogen poises itself for growth and expansion.

“We are thrilled to have Mike join our team,” said TMN CEO Rick Brandt. “He will have a critical role in the expansion of TradeMark Nitrogen’s capabilities and infrastructure, which will allow us to continue to deliver an exceptional level of customer service that we have built our company upon.”

Barry has over 30 years of production, engineering and managerial experience and has held numerous leadership positions in the agriculture industry.

“I’m very excited about this new role,” said Barry. “It’s a great team and I believe we have an opportunity to build TradeMark Nitrogen into a world-class organization.”
